Hooksett Library Policy on Commemorative Plaques and Memorial Markers

The Library Board of Trustees, on a very limited basis, may at their discretion authorize the placement and display of commemorative plaques or other memorial markers within the library building or on the library grounds to recognize contributions to the library or to the town by individuals or groups. The use of commemorative plaques or other memorial markers may include but is not limited to the recognition of material donation, financial donation, service to the library, or service to the community.

The Library Board of Trustees, on a very limited basis, may also authorize the placement and display of commemorative plaques for groups that regularly use the library and contribute to the library or the town. The function, design and placement of all commemorative plaques by groups must be approved by the Library Trustees and the costs associated with the production and maintenance of the plaques shall be the responsibility of the group requesting display space. The Library and its Trustees reserve the right to relocate the commemorative plaque or marker.
